EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT AND REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Claims 1-9 and 11-19 were rejected in Office Action of 17 November 2005.

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 17 April 2006 has been entered.

Applicants' submission on 17 April 2006 has amended claims 1, 7, 11, 12, 16, 18, and 19 and cancelled claim 10. The Examiner's Amendment below has cancelled claim 15. Claims 1-9, 11-14, and 16-19 are pending in this application.

Claims 1-9, 11-14, and 16-19 are allowed.

Examiner's Amendment

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Ken Fafrak (50,689) on 3 July 2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 15 has been cancelled.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Applicants' arguments submitted on 17 April 2006 have been fully considered and found persuasive.

The prior art of record does not expressly teach or render obvious the claimed invention as recited in independent claims 1, 16, 18, and 19. US Patent No. 5,870,588 to Rompaey et al. (Rompaey) discloses a method of simulating a digital system comprising simultaneous low-level and high-level simulation (column 6, lines 35-44). Rompaey neither discloses nor teaches the positively recited steps of "analyzing the loop termination condition to determine whether it is not automatically determined to be definitely terminating and, if so, replacing the jump instruction with an exit point."

Therefore, none of the references taken either alone or in combination with the prior art of record disclose a method or apparatus specifically including:

(claim 1) "analyzing the loop termination condition to determine whether it is not automatically determined to be definitely terminating and, if so, replacing the jump instruction with an exit point"

(claims 16, 18, 19) "analyzing the loop termination condition to determine whether it is possibly non-terminating and, if so, replacing the jump instruction with an exit point" in combination with the remaining elements and features of the claimed invention. It is for these reasons that Applicants' invention defines over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Remarks

Applicants have requested that the Examiner review Applicants' previous argument regarding the meaning of "possibly non-terminating" as used in the claims and in relation to the specification, page 50, lines 13-14.

The Examiner agrees that the issue is what is actually claimed.

It appears there is agreement that solving the Halting Problem is not possible at present and therefore a claim that requires solving the Halting Problem would be properly rejected under at least 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph. The Examiner agrees that whether page 50, lines 13-14 describe solving the Halting Problem is irrelevant because the claims are not believed to draw enabling support from those lines.

The Examiner understands the claim language "not automatically determined to be definitely terminating" and "possibly non-terminating" to be supported by, for example, page 50, line 22 – page 51, line 2.

This paragraph describes a course of action to be taken "If a loop may not terminate." Determining that "a loop may not terminate" is broader than solving the Halting Problem and therefore does not require a solution to the Halting Problem. Applicants' remarks (17 April 2006) appear to support this interpretation and argue persuasively that the claim language complies with 35 U.S.C. § 112 and is fully supported by the specification.

Art Unit: 2123
